An Old Adage Reads:

"There is a place for everything"
Now for everything to be in its place. The Louisville Dispatch should be in the home of every Democrat in the South. The Dispatch is the people's paper, owned by the people and read by the people. The Dispatch is the only Democratic paper published in Louisville. It stands squarely on the Chicago platform. It is not only in a flourishing condition after eighteen months battling against adverse circumstances, but is to-day the best medium in the South. And its motto—If you see it in the Dispatch it's so; If it's so it is always in the Dispatch, has been fully verified during the American-Spanish war, during which the superiority of its news service has been daily apparent.

The Dispatch news service is furnished by the New York Sun, the Chicago Inter-Ocean, the Northern Press Association and the Leslie Syndicate with an active salaried correspondent in every important city in the world, besides its own staff of over 300 correspondents in Kentucky, Tennessee and Indiana. Get the Dispatch, it gives the news, and tells the truth about it.

The Dispatch is Kentucky's greatest paper. You should be a reader. For the next few weeks we will club, with the Weekly Dispatch at the extremely low price of 75 cts.

The war is over, but the war tax, it appears, has come to stay.

The country seems to demand the retirement of old granny Algers and if the capital was out west, he would be kicked out, says a western exchange.

Statistics prove that it costs $7,000 worth of modern ammunition to kill a soldier in battle. That's not high for an American, but it's more than a thousand Spaniards are worth.

"What weapon did Sampson use in slaying the Phillistine?" asked the Sunday School superintendent during the general exercises. He—didn't use none," sputtered a little red-headed urchin on the back row of seats; "he didn't git inter de scrap till dey was all sunk."

It is announced positively by the War Department that no more troops will be mustered out of service at present, no matter what influences are brought to bear. The original intention was to muster out 100,000 men and of this number about 96,000 are already under orders of dismissal. Richmond Register

"No man liveth unto himself." Neither men or women are able to defy their fellows, to reject their friendship, or disregard the sympathies of their kind. We, all of us, need something with which we cannot supply ourselves. We are dependent to others for a thousand friendly offices, and it is well for us to acknowledge our dependency and also listen to the counsels of those who advise us for our own good. "Pride goeth before destruction, and the spirit is lifted up before the fall." He that claims that he can take care of himself is very likely to be poorly cared for and requires much more assistance than others who are less self-confident and more willing to accept the counsels of their friends.

Love isn't in it with five-cent whiskey, when it comes to making the world go 'round.

A Parable.

And it came to pass that after he had advertised his goods there came unto him great multitudes from all the region round about, and did buy of him. And when his competitors saw it they marvelled among themselves, saying: "How be it that this man is busy, while we loaf about our door?" And he spake unto them saying: "Verily, verily, I say unto you, in this fast age of push and rustle, it is easier for a camel to enter the eye of a needle than for a business man to flourish without advertising."—Exchange.

It is easy for men who drink to break themselves—but not of the habit of drinking.

"Don't worry," said a cornfed philosopher, "over things that can not be remedied. A little perusal of the average patent medicine ads will show that there is a remedy for everything.

The Home Merchant.

The home merchant is the man who gives you credit when you have no cash to buy the necessities of life. The home merchant is the man who helps you to pay the taxes that run your schools and pave your streets. The home merchant is the man to whom you appeal in times of distress for favors. Then why should you ignore him when you desire to make a purchase? He sells as good goods at as low figures as the man who does business in the cities. The hills just look green far away.

Mt. Sterling Court.

Fully 5,000 cattle on the market. Quality was only medium. Sales were a little slow in the morning, sellers asking from 25 to 50 cents per hundred more than buyers were willing to give. In the afternoon there were some concessions and trading was much better. Some sales were made of feeders at $4.30 and weighed; some sales at probably 4½¢ by the head; good yearlings at 4¢ to 4½¢; heifers were very brisk at 3½¢; cows at 1½¢ to 3¢; bulls at 2½¢ to 3¢. A good many cattle left over unsold at night, owners being unwilling to take the prices offered. A good crowd present, not only from all the counties surrounding, but Ohio had several buyers, as did Illinois.

SHEET SALES.

Stafford & Co. sold 40 ewes, bucks and lambs to Walter Payne at 3¢. They also sold 85 ewes at $3.50. per head.

HORSE AND MULE MARKET.

Mules were about as usual. Carithers & Beard and H. Berry, of Lexington, bought quite a number at from $65 to $100. C. S. Newman, of Hanover, Penn., bought last week 75 weanlings and yearling mules at $25 to $40 per head.

A good many sales of plug horses at low prices. Dan Michell, of Carlisle, bought a nice bay gelding of Fesler & Stephens at $300.—Mt. Sterling Advocate.

An Immense Land Sale.

One of the biggest land deals made in Eastern Kentucky, was consummated at Irvine Monday, says a Tuesday's dispatch. Messrs G. W. Evans and C. E. Smith, real estate agents of Richmond, transferred to an English syndicate 25,000 acres of timber and mineral lands. The lands are situated in Knott and Perry counties, Ky., and are among the most heavily timbered in Kentucky, a large part being of virgin forest.

Included in the deal is the Ingle saw mill at Irvine, one of the largest plants of the kind on the Kentucky river, and the whole transaction represents an investment of $100,000. It is said the price paid for the land was $2.50 per acre. The syndicate will enlarge the saw mill at Irvine, float logs to that place and cut them into lumber to supply a large furniture factory, which the syndicate will establish in Cincinnati.

How to Get Well Without Medicine.

The Public Health Journal furnishes the following suggestions in the way of preventive to everyday ills:
Try cranberries for malaria.
Try a sun bath for rheumatism.
Try clam broth for weak stomach.
Try cranberry poultice for erysipelas.

Try eating fresh radishes and yellow turnips for gravel.

Try swallowing saliva when troubled with sour stomach.

Try buttermilk for the removal of freckles, tan and butterstains.

Try eating onions and horse radish to relieve dropsical swellings.

Try the croup tippet when a child is likely to be troubled with croup.

Try hot flannel over the seat of neuralgic pain, and renew frequently.

Try hard cider—a wineglassful 3 times a day—for ague and rheumatism.

Try taking a nap in the afternoon if you are going to be out late that night.

Try a cloth wrung out from cold water put about the neck at night for sore throat.

Try breathing the fumes of turpentine or carbolic acid to relieve whooping cough.

Try an extra pair of stockings outside your shoes, when traveling in cold weather.

Try walking with your hands behind you if you find yourself becoming bent forward.

Try a silk handkerchief over the face when obliged to go against a cold, piercing wind.

When a man is so good that he wants his wife to go away for the summer for her health, her folks regard him with suspicion.

The intense love of an old toper for his liquor, goes to prove that familiarity doesn't always breed absolute contempt.

J. Riley McIntosh, of Wickensburg, Arizona, is visiting relatives in this county. Mr. McIntosh left this county eighteen years ago and this is his first visit back to Kentucky.

Newton Puckett, a valued subscriber, at the Clay City post office called at our office, renewed his subscription to the TIMES and had it sent to his uncle, John Ware, Maysville Mo.

In our last issue we inadvertently failed to mention that Mrs. O. C. Pryor went to Louisville to have a tumor cut from her face, the first operation proving to not have been a successful one. The Physicians there advised her to not be operated on again for some time yet. Dr. Henry Winburn, her family physician, accompanied her.

Learning that the Fiscal Court would meet at Irvine Tuesday to make a final settlement with ex-Sheriff James F. West, we thought we would go over and remind the court that there is a paper published in the county, and according to section 1846 of General Statutes, solicit the publication of the list of claims allowed, the delinquent tax list and the general financial condition of the county. We found the members of this court polite, gentlemanly, and all that we spoke to were for having the work done. So, for the first time since 1894, the law will be complied with by Estill's Fiscal Court as it regards the publication of the county's financial condition.

Good Enough to Take.

The finest quality of loaf sugar is used in the manufacture of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the roots used in its preparation give it a flavor similar to that of maple syrup, making it very pleasant to take. As a medicine for the cure of coughs, colds, lagrippe, croup and whooping cough it is unequalled by any other. It always cures, and cures quickly. For sale by J. W. Dawson & Bro., Spoutspring, Ky.

J. F. McKinney and Asa Todd have gone with cattle to the Winchester court market. If they fail to sell there at satisfactory prices they will ship to Cincinnati.

J. D. McKinney and daughter, Miss Jennie, are the guests of relatives at Winchester. They will return to their home at Hudson, Ill., the first of next week.

The magistrates of Jackson county have elected Neal Farmer County Judge to fill the unexpired term of Judge Johnson, who committed suicide a short time since.

Not the Wisest Way.

It is not always best to wait until it is needed before buying a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Quite frequently the remedy is required in the very busiest season or in the night and much inconvenience and suffering must be borne before it can be obtained. It costs but a trifle as compared with its real worth and every family can well afford to keep it in their home. It is everywhere acknowledged to be the most successful medicine in the world for bowel complaints. For sale by J. W. Dawson & Bro. Spoutspring, Ky.

That it pays and pays big to advertise has been demonstrated quite frequently by those who use the columns of the TIMES. Mr. John W. Barnett of this place, a short time ago, advertised in this paper a grist mill for sale. A number of inquiries came to Mr. Barnett, and the other day, through the help of his ad in this paper, he sold it. This mill had been offered for sale for eight months, but failed to find a buyer till he placed an ad in the TIMES. When you have something to sell, advertise it in the TIMES and you will get a buyer. Try it and see.

Bert Clem, aged 22, and his lover Miss Letita Green, aged 17, attempted suicide at Versailles Wednesday by taking morphine. Clem had been discharged by his employer for drunkenness and didn't care to live under the disgrace, and his lover was willing to share his fate. They will get well.

Chronic Diarrhoea Cured.

This is to certify that I have had chronic diarrhoea ever since the war. I got so weak I could hardly walk or do anything. One bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy cured me sound and well. J. R. Gibbs, Fincastle, Va.

I had chronic diarrhoea for twelve years. Three bottles of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy cured me. S. L. Shaver, Fincastle, Va.

Both Mr. Gibbs and Mr. Shaver are prominent farmers and reside near Fincastle, Va. They procured the remedy from Mr. W. E. Gasper, a druggist of that place, who is well acquainted with them and will vouch for the truth of their statement. For sale by J. W. Dawson & Bro.

DIED.

Lexington is reported to have a negro within her corporate limits that wont eat watermelons. He ought to be secured as an attraction in a side-show at a circus and exhibited as "the greatest living curiosities of the present century."

Duplicated Every Day.

A young girl of 15 was shot and killed by her sweetheart at Emporia the other day. It was a common enough tragedy, being duplicated somewhere in this progressive country of ours every day. Such things ought not to be. The parents of such girls are wholly responsible. These little fools should no more be allowed to run around at nights with a fellow, than lambs should be left unguarded at nights for the wolves to get, what does a little half developed woman—this girl of 15—want with a fellow anyway? You see them every day, everywhere by night, running around steeped in love sickness before the last tuck in their dress is let down, and we let them gad around and pick up the first worthless stick of a man they run across, to be married, divorced, deserted, or fight woman's hopeless battle with maternity and poverty, or to be killed as was this girl at Emporia. Ye Gods, what a horrible mess it all is! Better far the old world espionage of women—the duenna, the commercial contract of France, and less brutal the bargain and sale of wives by the heathen. American license in this matter could only be justifiable under a divine economy which fixed the age of puberty coincident with the age of maturity and discretion.—Ex

The Donkey and Merchant.

A donkey stepped into a store one day and asked for the proprietor, who walked out of his private office to meet him, but was surprised to see a donkey in his store. "Why are you here?" "You know this is no place for a donkey." "I am here said the donkey, "because I saw your advertisement on the fence that surround my pasture. I know you, too, must be a donkey, or you would have placed the advertisement in a newspaper, where it would be read by people, not donkeys. Being lonesome today, I thought I would be neighborly and make you a fraternal call."

Big Tie Deal.

The Floyd Day Lumber Company, of this city, closed a deal yesterday with the Lake Erie & Western R. R. for 230,000 railroad ties for $125,000, all to be delivered by next June. This is one of the largest orders ever filled by this or any other Kentucky firm, and is quite a feather in the cap of this enterprising firm.—Winchester Democrat.

Gen. Clay has lived to see four wars—British, 1812, Mexican, 1847, Civil and Spanish. His father was born in 1752 and fought in three wars. Thus two generations span over 146 years. Where else on earth is there living to day a man whose father was born a century and a half ago?—Richmond Climax.

Usually the more a man is wrapped up in himself the colder he is.

RIPANS

No matter what the matter is, one will do you good, and you can get ten for five cents.

A new style packet containing TEN RIPANS TABLETS in a paper carton (without glass) is now for sale at some drug stores—FOR FIVE CENTS. This low-priced sort is intended for the poor and the economical. One dozen of the five-cent cartons (120 tablets) can be had by mail by sending forty-eight cents to the RIPANS CHEMICAL COMPANY, No. 10 Spruce Street, New York—or a single carton (120 tablets) will be sent for five cents. Best medicine ever made since the world was created.

Be Something.

Idleness is the devil's own workshop and especially is this true of boys. We never feel sorry for the boy who has to work, even if it be to make a living for himself and family, but we do pity the boy who has nothing to do and whose parents are able to keep him from labor. The boy who may work and get only the stipend of a dollar or even less a week, is learning a trade, and what is more is learning habits of industry. It is from the boys who begin early in life habits of industry that become the successful men of the nation. The boy who waits until he is grown, or until he acquires an education, before he begins to labor or learn a profession, is apt to start in life handicapped and outstripped by his seemingly less fortunate competitor who started ahead of him. It pays the boy better in the long run to work for 25 cents a week and learn a trade, with habits of application to business, than to do nothing and be supported at the expense of his parents. Boys, do something—be something.—Ex.

What a Boy Costs.

Not long ago a man living in a western town made the assertion that it costs a good deal to rear a boy and then proceeded to add: "I opened an account with my oldest son when he was born and kept it faithfully, charging him with every cent paid out on his account, except board, while home. The boy was 21 years old not long ago, and I nearly paralyzed him by handing him a bill of $5,948.60, being the amount paid out to keep him alive and reasonably happy.—Ex.
